Annual Solemn Novena in Honor of St. Jude Thaddeus

Concludes Monday October 28 at 8:00 pm Mass

Closing of the Novena: The Novena will close at the 8:00 pm Mass on Monday, October 28th, the feast day of St. Jude. Novena Prayers will be recited, the Novena Master will deliver the homily, and Veneration of the Relics will commence after Mass.

Prayer to St. Jude

Most holy Apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use, I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of Heaven in all my necessities, tribulation, and sufferings, particularly (state request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen.

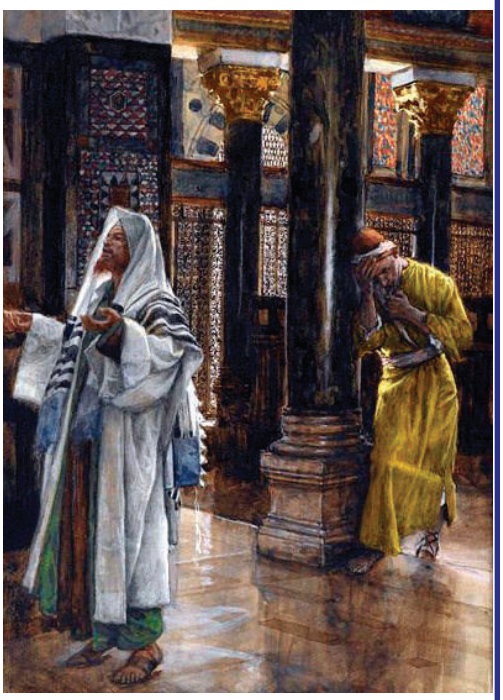
'O God, be merciful to me a sinner.'

Repentance involves an honest self-examination. Facing oneself squarely without any embellishment can be daunting and humbling. The attitudes of the two characters in the parable today present us a valuable lesson.

The sense of superiority and entitlement of the Pharisee is contrasted to the sense of utter unworthiness expressed by the tax collector. The Pharisee sees himself above and beyond the low-life sorts such as this pathetic tax collector, a parasite to the hated Roman conquerors and a betrayer of his own people.



The tax collector does not even raise his eyes to heaven. He beats his breast, saying, 'O God, be merciful to me a sinner.' This real but repentant sinner goes justified, while the pious but haughty Pharisee doesn't. After all, justification is the work of God, the divinely initiated right ordering of relationships with God and others.

The struggle against sin is a universal experience for every human person. Sin is deceptive, destructive, absurd, and contradictory, like addictions. God's grace through Christ is such a liberating light that breaks the vicious cycle of sin and its sinister logic.

Repentance is our turning around from the sinful cycle to a dynamic and intimate friendship with God who is all merciful. As in any authentic friendship, there is no room for deception. Being honest and open is a necessary mode of that intimate relationship.

Sin is both individual and social. The social dimension of sin appears in unjust systems or laws, social complicity to evil such as genocide and discrimination based on religion or race.

The Church is not immune from this social dimension of sin. In preparing for the Third Millennium the late Pope John Paul II begged forgiveness on behalf of the Catholic Church on various things such as our treatment of the Jews, Muslims, and nonbelievers in the past, the behaviors of the crusaders, the mistreatment of Galileo etc. He referred to over 90 different sins on the part of the Church.

Many Protestant churches also expressed their repentance. For example, Lutherans distanced themselves from the reprehensible diatribes of Martin Luther against the Jewish people.

Orthodox Christians talk about ecclesial repentance for a sin of dividing the Church into exclusive national and ethnic churches. Vigen Guroian calls for "Nothing less than a death and rebirth of many forms of church life as we have known them." Nikos Nissiotis states: "Unity among men in the Church is the result, the reflection, of the event of the Father's union with Christ by his Spirit realized on the day of Pentecost… Unity is not an attribute of the Church, but its very life. It is the divine-human interpenetration realized once and for all in the Communion between Word and Flesh in Christ."

The divine-human interpenetration! What a marvelous expression of our dynamic intimacy with God, made possible through Jesus!

Being totally honest before God, we remove all the stumbling blocks and pretension so that we may be able to receive and recapture all the rich blessings that God wants us to enjoy in the first place.

Yours truly in Christ,

Fr. Paul D. Lee

P.S. I am very grateful to Fr. Simon Kim, Sr. Myrna Tordillo, MSCS, and Corinne Monogue for guiding us in our annual solemn Novena.

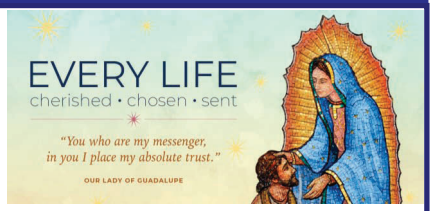
USCCB PRAYER FOR LIFE



Intercession: May we hold fast to Christ, our hope, in every season of life.

Prayers: The Lord's Prayer, 3 Hail Marys, Glory Be To God

Reflection: From the time we are knit together in our mothers' wombs until we take our final breaths, each moment of our lives is a gift from God. While every season of life brings its own challenges and trials, each season also gives us opportunities to grow in relationship with Him. As new attacks on human life continue to emerge, we might be tempted to despair, but Christ instead offers us unfailing hope. Christ's promise of salvation does not mean that we will be spared from suffering, but rather that even in the darkest moments of our lives, we will be given the strength to persevere. For this reason, a woman experiencing a difficult pregnancy can find the strength to welcome her precious child into the world. A man facing a terminal diagnosis can see that the end of his earthly life is the beginning of eternal life with Christ. When the seas of life swell and we are battered by the waves, hope allows us to remain anchored in the heart of God. May we hold fast to Christ, our hope, from the beginning of life to its very end.

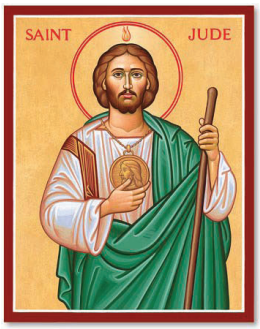
October 28th ~ Feast of St. Jude

St. Jude was described by St. Matthew (13:55) as being one of the "brethren" of Jesus, probably meaning a cousin since the Hebrew word for "brethren" indicates a blood relationship. His mother, Mary, was referred to as a cousin of Jesus' mother Mary, while his father, Cleophas, was the brother of St. Joseph. Jude had several brothers, including James, called the Lesser, who was another of the original Apostles. His own first name, "Jude", means giver of joy, while "Thaddeus", another name he was called, means generous and kind.

St. Jude died a martyr of God in Persia or Syria around 65 AD. Pilgrims came to his tomb in a crypt beneath St. Peter's Basilica to pray, and many of them experienced the powerful intercessions of St. Jude. This is how he acquired the title, "The Saint for the Hopeless and the Despairing." St. Bridget of Sweden and St. Bernard had visions from God asking each to accept St. Jude as "The Patron Saint of the Impossible."

Pope Paul III, in a brief dated September 22nd, 1543, granted a plenary indulgence to all who would visit the tomb of St. Jude on the day commemorating his death, October 28th, the day of his feast.

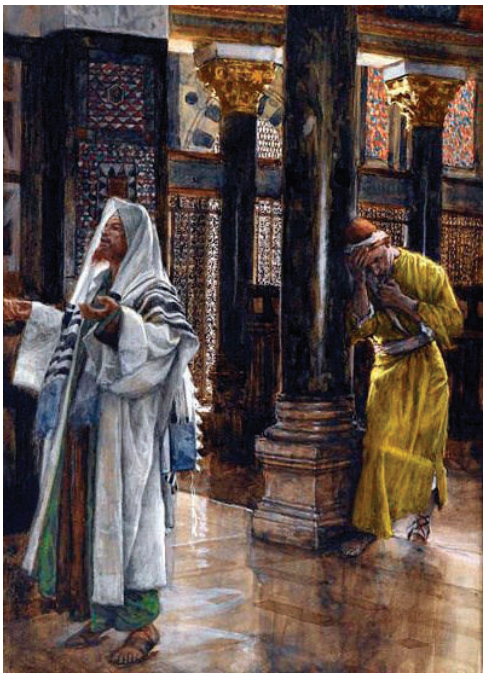
St. Jude is traditionally depicted carrying the image of Jesus in his hand. This depiction comes from a story in which King Abgar of Edessa (a city located in what is now southeast Turkey) asked Jesus to cure him of leprosy and sent an artist to bring him a drawing of Jesus. Impressed with Abgar's great faith, Jesus pressed his face into a cloth and gave it to St. Jude to take to Abgar. Upon seeing Jesus' image, The King was cured and he converted to Christianity along with most of the people under his rule.



Oh Dios, sé misericordioso conmigo un pecador.

El arrepentimiento implica un autoexamen honesto. Enfrentarse a uno mismo directamente sin ningún adorno puede ser desalentador y humillante. Las actitudes de los dos personajes de la parábola de hoy nos presentan una valiosa lección.

El sentido de superioridad y derecho del Fariseo contrasta con el sentido de indignidad expresado por el recaudador de impuestos. El Fariseo se ve a sí mismo más allá de los tipos de vida baja, como este patético recaudador de impuestos, un parásito de los conquistadores romanos odiados y un traidor de su propio pueblo. El recaudador de impuestos ni siquiera levanta los ojos al cielo. Golpea su pecho, diciendo: 'Oh Dios, sé misericordioso conmigo un pecador'. Este pecador real pero arrepentido va justificado, mientras que el piadoso pero altivo fariseo no. Después de todo, la justificación es la obra de Dios, el orden correcto divinamente iniciado de las relaciones con Dios y los demás.



La lucha contra el pecado es una experiencia universal para toda persona humana. El pecado es engañoso, destructivo, absurdo y contradictorio, como las adicciones. La gracia de Dios a través de Cristo es una luz tan liberadora que rompe el círculo vicioso del pecado y su lógica siniestra. Como en cualquier amistad auténtica, no hay lugar para el engaño. Ser honesto y abierto es un modo necesario de esa relación íntima.

El pecado es tanto individual como social. La dimensión social del pecado aparece en sistemas o leyes injustas, complicidad social al mal como el genocidio y la discriminación basada en la religión o la raza.

La Iglesia no es inmune a esta dimensión social del pecado. Al prepararse para el tercer milenio, el difunto Papa Juan Pablo II pidió perdón en nombre de la Iglesia Católica en varias cosas como nuestro tratamiento de los judíos, musulmanes y no creyentes en el pasado, los comportamientos de los cruzados, el maltrato de Galileo, etc. Se refirió a más de 90 pecados diferentes por parte de la Iglesia.

Muchas iglesias protestantes también expresaron su arrepentimiento. Por ejemplo, los luteranos se distanciaron de las diatribas reprobables de Martín Lutero contra el pueblo judío.

Los cristianos ortodoxos hablan del arrepentimiento eclesial por el pecado de dividir la Iglesia en iglesias nacionales y étnicas exclusivas. Vigen Guroian llama a "nada menos que la muerte y el renacimiento de muchas formas de vida de la iglesia como las conocemos". Nikos Nissiotis declara: "La unidad entre los hombres en la Iglesia es el resultado, el reflejo, del evento de la unión del Padre con Cristo por su Espíritu realizado en el día de Pentecostés ... La unidad no es un atributo de la Iglesia, sino su vida misma. Es la interpenetración divino-humana realizada de una vez por todas en la Comunión entre la Palabra y la Carne en Cristo ".

Es la interpenetración divino-humana realizada de una vez por todas en la Comunión entre la Palabra y la Carne en Cristo ".

Siendo totalmente honestos ante Dios, eliminamos todos los escollos y la pretensión para que podamos recibir y recuperar todas las ricas bendiciones que Dios quiere que disfrutemos en primer lugar.

Tuyo verdaderamente en Cristo,

Padre Paul D. Lee

P.D. Estoy muy agradecido al p. Simon Kim, Hna. Myrna Tordillo, MSCS y Corinne Monogue por guiarnos en nuestra solemne Novena anual.
