All Souls Day Remembrance – Recuerdo del Día de Todas las Almas

November is called "The Month of All Souls". It is a fitting time for us to pray for those family members and friends who have gone before us into eternal life. We especially remember those whose funeral services were celebrated from the Parish of St. John-Holy Angels Parish during this past year:

Noviembre se llama "El Mes de Todas las Almas". Es un momento apropiado para que oremos por aquellos familiares y amigos que han partido antes que nosotros a la vida eternal. Recordamos especialmente a aquellos cuyos servicios funerarios fueron celebrados en la Parroquia de San Juan-Santos Angeles durante este año pasado:

The Lectionary for Mass

Thessalonians

As the Church year draws to its close, it is likely that Catholics attending Sunday Mass will hear a second reading from one of St. Paul's two letters to the Thessalonians. Excerpts from the First Letter are proclaimed through a stretch of four Sundays near the end of the lectionary's Year A, and passages from the Second Letter are heard on three Sundays near the end of Year C.

Many scholars believe that these were Paul's first efforts at writing epistles. They also believe that the Gospels were first written down some decades after Paul died. Therefore, the First Letter to the Thessalonians is probably the oldest written books of the New Testament, dating back to about AD 50.

The city of Thessaloniki still stands as a large important port in Greece, the populous center of Macedonia. Paul had visited there on his missionary journeys, where he and Silas won over many Jewish and Gentile converts, both men and women. He also made some enemies, and this perhaps convinced him to stay in touch with the flock he formed.

The letters reveal a belief that Jesus' return was imminent. They also comfort readers with a message about the salvation of believers who have already died. These themes make the letters particularly appropriate for the end of the Church year, when the faithful turn their attention to the Second Coming of Christ. Passages from the first Letter to the Thessalonians also appear on a Sunday of Advent in Years B and C, and as one option for a reading at funerals.

Although Paul was wrong about how quickly Christ would return, these letters remind us to behave our best at all times – as though the end is near.

El Leccionario para la Misa

Tesalonicenses

Al acercarse el fin del año litúrgico, es probable que los católicos que asisten a la misa dominical escuchen una segunda lectura de una de las dos cartas de San Pablo a los Tesalonicenses. Se proclaman extractos de la Primera Carta durante cuatro domingos cerca del final del Año A del leccionario, y pasajes de la Segunda Carta se escuchan tres domingos cerca del final del Año C.

Muchos eruditos creen que estos fueron los primeros intentos de Pablo por escribir epístolas. También creen que los Evangelios se escribieron por primera vez algunas décadas después de su muerte. Por lo tanto, la Primera Carta a los Tesalonicenses es probablemente el libro escrito más antiguo del Nuevo Testamento, que data aproximadamente del año 50 D.C.

La ciudad de Tesalónica sigue siendo un importante puerto en Grecia, el populoso centro de Macedonia. Pablo la había visitado en sus viajes misioneros, donde él y Silas convencieron a muchos judíos y gentiles, tanto hombres como mujeres. También se ganó algunos enemigos, y esto tal vez lo convenció de mantenerse en contacto con el rebaño que había formado.

Las cartas revelan la creencia de que el regreso de Jesús era inminente. También reconfortan a los lectores con un mensaje sobre la salvación de los creyentes que ya han fallecido. Estos temas las hacen especialmente apropiadas para el final del año litúrgico, cuando los fieles centran su atención en la Segunda Venida de Cristo. Pasajes de la primera Carta a los Tesalonicenses también aparecen en un domingo de Adviento en los Años B y C, y como una opción de lectura en los funerales.

Aunque Pablo se equivocó sobre la rapidez del regreso de Cristo, estas cartas nos recuerdan que debemos comportarnos lo mejor posible en todo momento, como si el fin estuviera cerca.
