BOXES OF JOY

The Knights of Columbus are planning their Boxes of Joy program again this year headed up by David Dodson. For those of you who do not know the project, this is a program through Cross Catholic Outreach where we send a box of items to underprivileged children mostly in the Caribbean and Latin America. These small boxes go to the poorest of poor children for Christmas. The cost is about $15.00 and we supply the box to you, collect it and ship it around the end of November. School supplies are an item that these children desperately need and since school supplies are on sale now, we decided to get started early. There will be more about this program and a list of suggested items in the upcoming bulletins. Please keep these children in mind when shopping for your own children or grandchildren, put these items aside and look for the distribution of boxes at upcoming masses. Thank you.
