WHAT'S IN YOUR HEART?

Scripture challenges leaders to make sacrifices for the sake of their people and reveal God's love in their actions.

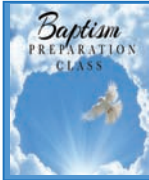

- ◆ The power to heal comes through Christ. How have I used this power well?
- ◆ Jesus is the cornerstone to our salvation. In what ways do I turn from him? How can I put Jesus more clearly at the center of my life?
- ◆ We are children of God now. How well do I witness the legacy of God's love?
- ◆ Do I turn to the Good Shepherd when I am feeling lost? Do others turn to me? How well do I respond?

FROM THE PASTOR

My Dear Parish Family,

Because of the readings Holy Mother Church gives us each year, the Fourth Sunday of Easter has traditionally been called "Good Shepherd Sunday." And since we look and revere Jesus as the Good Shepherd, we also designate this day as the World Day of Prayer for Vocations. This one day each year is dedicated to pray for church leaders: those we already have, and those we need for the future. As your pastor, I ask that if you love the church, pray for those who lead her. And...if you don't like the way the church is headed, if you have disagreements with ecclesial decisions and pronouncements, then you may have to pray twice as hard!

Sometimes when we are not feeling settled with a particular issue or institution it may be that we are actually being called into service or even, leadership. I can credit my own journey to answering God's call to become a priest to an acute sense of dissatisfaction with some things at my home parish and its administration. When I shared my concern with my pastor, who at first was quite defensive, he told me that "The church doesn't need yes-men and -women." In fact, we are called to be a church who models Jesus who feeds his sheep and hears the cry of the poor. Conversations couched in charity and faith lead to conversion, commitment and active participation in the mission of Christ.

I encourage you all to pray for an openness to God's call to service in the church. Please pray for young men to hear the word God places in their mind and heart. God bless you all and...

MENSAJE DEL PARROCO

Mi querida familia parroquial,

Por las lecturas que nos regala la Santa Madre Iglesia cada año, el Cuarto Domingo de Pascua se le ha llamado tradicionalmente “Domingo del Buen Pastor”. Y puesto que miramos y reverenciamos a Jesús como Buen Pastor, designamos también este día como Jornada Mundial de Oración por las Vocaciones. Este día cada año se dedica a orar por los líderes de la iglesia: los que ya tenemos y los que necesitamos para el futuro. Como su pastor, le pido que si ama la iglesia, ore por quienes la dirigen. Y... si no le gusta la forma en que se dirige la iglesia, si tiene desacuerdos con las decisiones y pronunciamientos eclesiales, entonces quizás tenga que orar el doble intensamente.

A veces, cuando no nos sentimos satisfechos con un tema o institución en particular, puede ser que en realidad estamos siendo llamados al servicio o incluso al liderazgo. Puedo acreditar mi propio viaje a responder al llamado de Dios a ser sacerdote a un agudo sentimiento de insatisfacción con algunas cosas en mi parroquia de origen y su administración. Cuando compartí mi preocupación con mi pastor, quien al principio estaba bastante a la defensiva, me dijo que “la iglesia no necesita hombres y mujeres que digan que sí”. De hecho, estamos llamados a ser una iglesia que modela a Jesús que alimenta a sus ovejas y escucha el clamor de los pobres. Las conversaciones fundadas en la caridad y la fe conducen a la conversión, al compromiso y a la actividad. La participación en la misión de Cristo.

Los animo a todos a orar por una apertura al llamado de Dios al servicio en la iglesia. Por favor pague para que los jóvenes escuchen la palabra que Dios pone en su mente y corazón. Dios los bendiga a todos y Oremos unos por otros ... (Oremus pro invicem).

Padre Scott Shaffer

Conozca la diferencia entre un buen y un mal pastor: el buen pastor se preocupa por el bienestar de su rebaño, pero el mal pastor sólo se preocupa por su propio bienestar.
